Mess Up Faces

Platform: iOS

Category: Entertainment

MessUpFaces is the most comprehensive photo app that allows users to make amazing exaggerated caricatures of their friends. Super-fun and easy to combine photo-realistic elements (mustaches, wigs, masks, backgrounds & more) with an image.

Features

- Over 500 elements, including hats, wigs, mustaches, facial features, gestures, glasses, noses, masks, hands, accessories, bodies & more to 'add' to the image
- Goo, twist, squeeze, smudge, distort & melt a face!
- Users colorize the image & decide brightness, contrast, texture with the Photoshop-level precision relying on limited processing powers of the smartphones
- They source images from their cameras or Facebook. They can also run an Internet image search, erase an image's background & place it on their own image
- They share the "MessedUp" image via Facebook, Twitter, email, SMS, camera roll, or print it
- Users can save their sessions

Votechat

Platform: iOS

Category: Social Networking

VoteChat is a group messaging platform where ideas (or messages) are exchanged by friends and then voted on by the group. Users follow interests rather than people. The platform is designed for someone who wants to quickly get feedback on potential ideas or plans for the group. All winning ideas are logged so that members can see what has been decided when returning to the app.

It's Quora meets WhatsApp as the users create groups for instant messaging and share and vote on ideas centered around specific interests.

The app is still in early beta testing phase as new use cases are being discovered everyday.

Battle AX

Platform: iOS

Category: Branded Game

A game centered around creating a social network for guitarists intricately connected with improving the brand awareness of Bohemian Guitars.

One-to-one game challenges the guitar players to try to match pre-recorded snippets. The audio signature of the player's recording is matched with the pre-recorded snippet using backend processing to return a matching percentage. The challenge can then be sent to the players in the user's social network or random opponents.

Practice Mode, in-built Guitar Tuner and virtual currency associated with physical Bohemian guitars.

LabCliQ

Platform: iOS

Category: Research

Now 'inspections' are not synonymous to 'tedious paperwork', and the credit goes to LabCliQ, an online and paperless inspection tool specially designed for Environmental Health and Safety programs at universities and other research related organizations.

It's easy-to-use features; like a list of appropriate categories and checklist questions, pre-populated responses for inspection reports, built-in tracking system to check the progress and many more; can help you organize your entire inspection anytime and anywhere. Plus don't worry about writing the end report, LabCliq will take care of that as well.

The party comes to town on web, iOS and Android next February. Until then, bear with us and soon we will unleash the party animal within you.
